Georgian Museum Will Host Valentine Tea

The Georgian Museum in downtown Lancaster will hold a Valentine Tea at 3 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 10.

The tea takes over the entire first floor of this 1832 Federal-style mansion that was built for one of the wealthiest couples in Ohio, Samuel & Sarah Maccracken. The luxurious rooms will be decorated in a celebration of vintage valentines. If bad weather threatens, the tea will be held Feb. 17. The museum is located at 105 E. Wheeling St., Lancaster.

Reservations are required. Tickets are $35 and are now on sale. Call 740-654-9923 to order or go to www.fairfieldheritage.com.

Proceeds from the tea benefit the Heritage Association, a nonprofit organization that owns and operates the Georgian Museum and the Sherman House Museum; champions preservation and revitalization; and provides educational programming.
